Structure, Built in 1824 and Used During Stage Coach Era, Destroyed

COAL OIL STOVE BLAMED

Several Residents Lose All Personal Belongings; Part Of Loss Insured

Fire destroyed the historic Darbyville hotel Tuesday and threatened several nearby homes.

Loss on the building was estimated at $3,000 by William Miller, justice of peace at Darbyville, the owner. It was insured for $1,500.

The fire started about 10 o'clock. Cause of the blaze is not certain although Mr. Miller believes a coal oil stove was responsible.

Mrs. Molly Shotts, a widow, who resided on the North side of the building on the second floor, said that when she opened a door from one of her rooms to go after a bucket of water the hall was ablaze. "I believe the fire started in the hall across from my kitchen," she said. "When I opened the door the whole hall was afire."

Resident Suffers Injury

Alfred Hastings, 51, a resident of the building, was cut on the left hand and burned on the arms and face when he attempted to remove some of his belongings from his room. His injuries were not serious. All the personal property of Mrs. Shotts and Mr. Hastings was destroyed.

Others who lived in the building were Harry Shane, John Waples, Plato Ambrose, and Mrs. John Crawford. Mrs. Crawford, 84, was reluctant to leave her rooms, residents said, and was forced from the building.

Mr. Miller's justice of peace office and Mrs. Miller's beauty parlor were located in the building.

Household furnishings of some of the residents were saved by residents of the village.

The fire damaged the homes of Mrs. Clara Hill, on the South side of the hotel, and Cyrus Collins, on the North side.

Fire Chief C. E. Hill of Williamsport, was burned on the hand fighting the flames. He narrowly escaped more serious injury when a chimney crashed. One chimney fell into Main street in the village, tossing bricks into a crowd gathered on the street. No one was hurt.

Fire Chief Hill said he received the fire call at 10:05 o'clock and made the run to the village from Williamsport in 20 minutes. Circleville's fire department was called.

Davey Charges "Booing" As "Most Outrageous"

By UNITED PRESS

Undaunted by the most violent outburst of booing he has yet encountered in his campaign, Gov. Martin L. Davey left Akron today for a whirlwind tour through approximately 30 counties in the final drive for victory in the Democratic gubernatorial primaries just one week hence.

For almost an hour a virtually uninterrupted din of boos and catcalls greeted the governor's shouted remarks at a rally in a grove near Akron. The noise together with a weakened loud speaker system prevented the crowd from hearing much of the speech.

The governor planned to cover five northern rural counties today, speaking in Norwalk, Ashland, Mt. Gilead, Bucyrus and Tiffin. He will meet an equally exacting schedule for the rest of the week.

The governor's extemporaneous speech last night followed his weekly radio speech in which he again attacked John L. Lewis and the Committee for Industrial Organization and charged that Charles Sawyer, his primary opponent, is Lewis' "candidate."

"This is the most outrageous demonstration I have ever seen or heard of in Ohio," the governor told his Akron hearers. "It's fellows like you who make the use of troops necessary. This is the kind of thing that has driven 17,000 jobs out of Akron."

From Cleveland Sawyer headed for an important rally in Youngstown tonight, regarding tomorrow to Cincinnati and speeches in the southern part of the state.

In Cleveland Sawyer attacked Davey for the administration efforts to shut off the graft investigation during a session of the legislature. Supreme Court Judge Arthur H. Day returned to the attack on Robert A. Taft, his opponent for the Republican nomination for the U. S. senate, with the charge that Taft's legislative record "stamps him as a reactionary engaged in schemes to aid the wealthy in escaping just taxation."

In Washington, Chairman Morris Sheppard, D., Tex., of the senate campaign expenditures committee requested Taft to file immediately a report on campaign contributions. Taft last week reported expenditures of $15,684 and advised that the campaign committee would forward a list of contributors. In Washington it was said the report had not arrived.

Later, Taft in Columbus made public a detailed answer to various questions.

CLARKSBURG MOTORIST FINED $100 AND JAILED

Skinner, riding alone, was arrested Monday at 6:20 p. m.

VOTING TRENDS BEING DECIDED IN FOUR STATES

Kansas Balloting Watched With John Hamilton Asking Defeat of Revivalist

CLARK ASSURED PLACE

Virginia's Citizens Study New Deal Fight Against Incumbent Solon

BY UNITED PRESS
Four straw-in-the-wind primary elections sample voting trends on some of the outstanding issues of the 1938 political campaign today.

Kansas heads the vote parade with a test of the pulling power of a campaigner who denounced Jews and Catholics. Virginia offers a one-act play called "the purge." Missourians decide whether Thomas J. Pendergast is as big a Democratic boss as he used to be. West Virginia offered no tests of national importance.

The Rev. Gerald B. Winrod, a radio revivalist, is the featured player in Kansas. He has been denounced and repudiated by Chairman John D. M. Hamilton of the Republican national committee and other party leaders. He is an uncertain political performer who raised racial and religious issues in Kansas until Hamilton advised fellow Republicans to vote against him.

Issue Feared Again

"If Mr. Winrod is nominated," Hamilton said on July 22, "it (the issue of intolerance) will again be injected into the national campaign and our party in Kansas will be on the wrong side of a vital issue and opposed to our party policy in other states."

Emporia Editor William Allen White said that Winrod espoused "the Nazi position." He and other responsible leaders would be expected to refuse to support Winrod, if nominated. They might throw their influence to Sen. George McGill, a New Dealer who will be the Democratic nominee to succeed himself. Winrod is opposed.

200 PERSONS AT MONROE SCHOOL BOOSTER CONFAB

About 200 persons attended the public meeting held in the Monroe township school Monday evening in the interest of the bond issue for an addition.

The Public Works Administration has given the project its approval for a federal grant of $30,272. The township will vote on a $30,000 bond issue for its share. Speakers were George G. Adkins, Circleville attorney; G. D. McDowell, superintendent of county schools, and Ansel Crowder, president of the Monroe township board of education. Music was furnished by Circleville's Little German band. Refreshments were served.

KIWANIANS CHALLENGE ROTARIANS TO GAME OF RECREATION BALL

The Kiwanis club, at its meeting Monday evening, voted to issue a challenge to the Rotary club for a softball game, proceeds from which will be put into underprivileged and crippled children's funds of the two clubs.

The challenge was decided on after several members of Rotary said they believed such a game could be arranged. Robert Terhune, president of Kiwanis, named Paul Miller, Dan McClain and Glen Geib as a committee to meet with a Rotary committee to plan the contest.

The Kiwanis played an intra-club game Monday, the score being about 18-13 with President Terhune's team winning.

ATHENS COUNTY TO GRILL THREE IN DEATH CASE

ATHENS, Aug. 2 — (UP)—Three men captured on a freight train at Hebron, O., at 8 a. m. were to be brought here today for questioning in connection with the holdup slaying of John O'Brien, Athens gasoline station operator, last Wednesday.

The men said they were Carl Herwig, 23, and Gilbert Herwig, 28, brothers, and John Faught, 18. They said they were traveling automobile mechanics.

A posse of 50 officers searched the woodlands South of New Lexington last night for the men. Those making the capture were Sheriff Charles W. Bayless, Athens, Sheriff James Adrian, New Lexington, Sheriff L. D. Hague, Newark, and Corp. W. B. Spence of the Ohio highway patrol.

The three men did not resist capture, denied they had anything to do with O'Brien's murder. They were taken from a northbound freight train near Buckeye Lake.

RUSS-JAP FRICTION MAY DEVELOP INTO GENERAL WARFARE

Border Crisis Threatens to Force Two of World's Strongest Armies Against Each Other; Moscow Points Out Possibility of "Consequences"

BY UNITED PRESS

Russia and Japan reported fighting on the Siberian frontier today on a scale and of a nature which made it plain that an explosion into a general war between two of the most powerful armies in the world, was threatened and might be imminent.

Japan asserted that after airplane attacks at 4 a. m. and 7:30 a. m. Russian infantry supported by tanks attacked the Japanese in the Changkufeng sector at 9 a. m. today.

Russia asserted, in a communique issued before the times cited for these attacks, the Russian troops had stormed and retaken the hill, in the Changkufeng sector, from which Russian troops previously had been driven.

Japan asserted that Russia had lost more than 70 dead in the Changkufeng area. Russia asserted that the Japanese losses there had totaled 400 in killed and wounded, and admitted 13 killed and 55 wounded on her own side.

The Russian government instructed its charge d'affaires at Tokyo to protest in the strongest terms against frontier developments and to point out the possibilities of "gravest consequences" of the action of Japanese troops.

The atmosphere of reserve and watchfulness which comes at a time when governments believe they may soon be called on to decide definitely between peace and war was apparent in dispatches from both Moscow and Tokyo.

It was indicated that troops from both sides were quietly taking their positions along the frontier in formidable number.

In Fukuoka province in southwestern Japan, an emergency "light control" plan was put into operation last night—an air raid precaution.

Perhaps the gravest hint of the danger of the situation was contained in a United Press Tokyo dispatch reporting that foreign observers believed it "possible" to localize the frontier position—or, expressed a little more forcefully, that actual open war was not yet regarded as absolutely certain.

OHIOAN ACCUSED IN TWO DEATHS GOES ON TRIAL

MARION, Aug. 2 — (UP)—Taking of testimony began today in the first degree murder trial of Harvey L. Roush, 48, accused of killing Mr. and Mrs. Homer T. Myers at their farm home, April 30.

The jury of five women and seven men was taken yesterday to the scene of the shooting, South of here.

Roush, under sanity observation at the Lima state hospital last week, confessed to Marion authorities that he killed the couple, whose tenant he had been. Grant E. Mouser, Jr., defense counsel, said he would seek to show that Roush signed a confession to "keep his family clear."

Mrs. Roush and a married daughter, Mrs. Beulah Wheatley of Cincinnati, were in the courtroom.

THE NORMANDIE DOCKED LAST NIGHT

The Normandie docked last night with first details of the mystery, which came within the jurisdiction of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Mrs. Duncan was met by her father, Dr. Willard S. Richardson, who forbade her to talk to newspapermen. They went home immediately. Those aboard the ship said Mrs. Duncan had told them that her husband sprang at her throat without provocation while they were standing at the deck rail, after dinner Sunday evening.

A seaman carried her to the ship's hospital and sounded the alarm, but Duncan was gone.

Duncan was a professor of political science, a graduate of Princeton. They had sailed June 25 on the S. S. Paris for a vacation in Europe, had visited the Azores, France, Ireland, Scotland and the Scandinavian countries and boarded the Normandie at Southampton to return home.

INFANT'S HEART STOPS BEATING FOR 45 MINUTES

CHICAGO, Aug. 2 — (UP)—Three-months-old Robert Didier was lucky to be alive today. His heart was stopped for 45 minutes yesterday.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Didier, were returning to Chicago from their summer cottage at Diamond Lake, Ill., when their automobile went over a bump and threw the baby to the floor from the rear seat where he had been tucked in blankets.

Didier stopped the machine and picked him up. The baby didn't move.

"He's suffocated, he's dead," Didier sobbed.

With his wife, Margaret, holding the baby, he rushed to a drug store. The druggist worked for several minutes to revive the baby, pronounced him dead from suffocation. But Didier would not give up hope.

He put the child in the automobile and sped 14 miles to a hospital in suburban Wheeling. Dr. Edward L. Larson could detect no heart beats. The baby's body was starting to turn blue. Larson tried artificial respiration without response. As a last resort he injected adrenalin into the baby's heart muscles.

Finally the baby stirred. A few hours later he was home with his parents.

FEDERAL AGENTS PROBE COLGATE MAN'S SUICIDE

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 — (UP)—Federal agents learned today from seamen aboard the Normandie that Prof. Robert Duncan, 35, of Colgate university, had quarreled with his wife Sunday night before he beat and choked her and disappeared, apparently overboard, while the ship was 500 miles at sea.

The Normandie docked last night with first details of the mystery, which came within the jurisdiction of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Mrs. Duncan was met by her father, Dr. Willard S. Richardson, who forbade her to talk to newspapermen. They went home immediately. Those aboard the ship said Mrs. Duncan had told them that her husband sprang at her throat without provocation while they were standing at the deck rail, after dinner Sunday evening.

WORKERS PLEDGE AID FOR RED GOVERNMENT

MOSCOW, Aug. 2 — (UP)—War-like threats were voiced today at demonstrations of Russian workers over new clashes between Soviet troops and Japanese - Manchukuo forces which were reported from the Siberian frontier.

Workers gathered in the meeting halls of various factories to express support of the government and indignation over "new, insolent provocation by Japanese militarists." The official attitude, however, was described as "calm and collected."

TROOPS BOMBED, GUNNED

A foreign office informant announced receipt of information that three Russian bombing planes attacked in the Changkufeng area at 4 a. m. and bombed and machine gunned Japanese troop positions.

Later the Korea army headquarters at Seoul (Keijo) announced in a communique transmitted by the Domei agency that 10 Russian airplanes in formation bombed the area at 7:30 a. m. The communique said that the Japanese did not retaliate.

A second communique asserted that a battalion of Russian troops supported by nine tanks attacked the Japanese at 9 a. m.

It was asserted that the Japanese repulsed the attackers and that the Russians abandoned three (Continued on Page Eight)

Regulations Affect Only
Certain Table Stock
Outside of States

TUSSING EXPLAINS ACT

Better Average Quality is Sought; Demand Build-Up
Expected, Too

Federal-state inspection of potatoes, comprising one of the major provisions of the marketing agreement program proposed for Ohio and 16 other late-producing states, will apply only to out-of-state shipments while the program is in operation according to E. B. Tusling, specialist in vegetable crops, Ohio State university.

Inspection, Mr. Tusling explained, is not required of potatoes which are sold within the state in which they are grown. But the program provides that potatoes shipped out of state by handlers or by growers who ship their own potatoes must be inspected.

This provision, which does not apply to officially state certified seed potatoes, is designed to assure the marketing of potatoes that measure up to the standards of grade and size specified under the marketing agreement regulations for the benefit of the grower, the handler, and the consumer. To the grower, it means the stabilization of quality in the principal channels of trade so that there is fair competition among growers.

Together with the cull regulation, prohibiting shipment of cull potatoes in interstate commerce, and such other grade and size limitation measures which may be recommended by administering committees, federal-state inspection aids in furnishing dependable graded products to the merchandising industry.

Further, Mr. Tusling said, inspection assists in the establishment of the farm price for potatoes based on better average quality and aids in building up demand for potatoes grown in various areas because of uniform quality and size.

Federal-state inspection is advantageous to the handler as well as to the grower. Because of this regulation the handler can deal in potatoes of dependable uniform quality, assuring him of fewer rejected shipments and lower handling costs in the end. The consumer benefits also through having available a supply of potatoes that are not defective or of such small size as to be wasteful in preparation for the table.

RIPLEY HAS BLIND GOLFERS

A blind English golfer, who shoots in the 80's, will be presented on the Bob "Believe It Or Not" Ripley program over the NBC-Red network when the series takes a new time schedule starting Monday, Aug. 8 at 7 p. m. The guest is Dr. W. H. J. Oxenham of Hove, Sussex, England, who lost his sight in January 1917, when fighting with the Seventh Battalion Royal West Kents on the Somme, during the World War.

Dr. Oxenham, 43, with offices and established practices in London and Hove, has made a happy and successful life for himself since he took up golf merely by accident some five years ago. He plays the game for fun and has brought his chauffeur, who doubles as his caddy, with him to America.

The broadcast will originate in the Oakwood Country Club at Cleveland, Ohio where Graham McNamee will offer for Ripley listeners a stroke-by-stroke account of one hole played by Dr. Oxenham under floodlights, which, ironically enough, he can't see.

AMERICAN DEBUT

Julian Fuhs, Continental jazz king, makes his American debut over the coast-to-coast NBC-Blue network on Friday, August 12 at 9 p. m.

Fuhs introduced the American jazz band into Europe when the famed Max Reinhardt induced him to go to Europe so that the synchronization of the United States could be heard there. He has been the sensation of Europe for years. Back in 1927 he met Paul Whiteman while "Pops" was touring over there. They became friends. It is under the banner of Whiteman that Fuhs has come to this country and under Whiteman's aegis that he will make his American network debut.

His program, all in the popular manner and with every number especially arranged, will include "Johann Strauss of Today," a group of Continental melodies, and the Julian Fuhs treatment of such American favorites as "My Old Kentucky Home," Friml's "Song of the Vagabonds," Gershwin's "The Man I Love," Romberg's "Deep in My Heart," Kern's "Told Every Little Star" and Herbert's "Sweet Mystery of Life." With a 10-piece orchestra under his baton, Fuhs will also present a mixed quartette in the vocals.

Four of Harlan Jurors Changed Minds, One Says

LONDON, Ky., Aug. 2—(UP)—John Hibbard, 59, eldest member of the federal court jury which yesterday was dismissed after having failed to reach a verdict in the Harlan anti-labor conspiracy trial, said today that the jury had been divided 11 to one for conviction of all defendants until less than two weeks ago.

"Four of the jurors suddenly changed their minds and took a stand for acquittal," he said. Hibbard said all of the jurors had spent most of their idle hours in talking over the case, despite strict orders from Federal Judge H. Church Ford that they should not discuss it until testimony and arguments had been completed.

The mistrial ended temporarily the government's first attempt to enforce the National Labor Relations act by criminal prosecution. The defendants, 16 coal mining companies, 18 company officials and 21 former Harlan county deputy sheriffs, are accused of having conspired to prevent unionization of miners by intimidation and coercion in violation of an 1870 statute.

Their drawn out and complicated trial lasted 58 days in terms of court sessions, 78 days by the calendar. Government and defense attorneys used approximately 2,225,000 words in presenting testimony and arguments. Attorneys said complete cost of the case was inestimable but believed it had cost the government alone at least $350,000.

Judge Ford set Sept. 17 at Lexington for hearing of a motion for a new trial after Foreman L. F. Johnson had reported the deadlock—seven for acquittal and five for conviction on the final ballot.

Hibbard said he had been impressed by "the strong case of conspiracy the government made."

"I told the other jurors when we took the first ballot that I could not be true to my oath and go back to my family and say that I had done my duty unless I voted to convict them all," he said.

"I don't know why those four other jurors switched around. That happened about the time them ropes was stretched around the house."

He referred to ropes which deputy marshals had strung around the jurors quarters after Judge Ford had received reports that friends and relatives of some of the jurors had been seen "parading" before the jury quarters in company with some of the defendants.

AT THE CLIFTONA

With the nation's divorce rate increasing steadily, a marriage license "guaranteeing" permanent matrimony should attract plenty of applicants.

This is the ingenious framework of RKO Radio's new comedy-drama for Victor Moore, "This Marriage Business" which opens Wednesday at The Cliftona. Moore portrays a county clerk in a little town who has been licensing would-be newlyweds for twenty years, and none of them has ever obtained a divorce.

When Allan Lane as an alert newspaperman, publicizes this unusual record in New York papers, a flood of prospective brides and grooms pour into the sleepy community to get one of Moore's "Lucky Licenses," and the ensuing complications make for many of the film's hilarious moments.

Lane and Vicki Lester, Moore's pretty daughter, provide the love interest of the story and such favorites as Frank M. Thomas, Jack Carson, Jack Sutton, Richard Lane, Jack Arnold, Cecil Kellaway, Ida Vollmar and Paul Guilfoyle have important roles. Christy Cabanne directed the production by Cliff Reid.

Stuart Erwin had another kick coming on the set of "Checkers" and he spent several anxious hours devising ways to avoid it. It was all because of some ad libbing by a horse during his filming of Jane Withers' newest Twentieth Century-Fox hit, now at the Grand Theatre.

Jane, Stuart and Una Merkel were standing in a group around the colt "Blue Skies," whose racing prowess fuels his keep the love-lit burning in the story. Jane was supposed to give Erwin an unobtrusive kick to attract

Sawyer Organization Says Promises are Made to Unemployed Men

STATE WITHOUT POWER

Federal Government Alone Controls Distribution of Funds to State

COLUMBUS, Aug. 1 — Sawyer-for-Governor headquarters, in the Neil House here, today issued the following statement:

"Not content with laying their unholy hands on the old age pensions division, the liquor department and the highway (hot mix) department, the governor's crowd is now reaching out for the jointly controlled Federal and state unemployment insurance setup, which is under civil service.

"They are calling together groups of 40 or more in each county, chiefly unemployed men, promising them that they will make certain their eligibility for the hundreds of positions soon to be filled in this branch of the Civil Service. These minions of the governor promise that they will secure for everyone in the group the list of questions AND applicants, claiming that they are in close contact with people in the Civil Service Commission who will have charge of the questions and answers.

"The condition is made in this infamous deal that before the questions are delivered, the county in which the people live must be delivered to Davey.

"We are 100 percent certain that the promise can not and will not be fulfilled. But what do the governor and his crowd care? The examination will not be held until long after the primary, and the tragic disappointment in the lives of those who have been promised jobs will matter little.

"The Civil Service Commission should immediately denounce this insidious attempt to corrupt the law under which the integrity of the Civil Service is guaranteed."

Last time I was in there I called Uncle Hod over and says "Where's the menu?" I says "My goodness—how do you memorize all that?" and Uncle Hod said "I don't memorize nothin'—I just look at the tablecloth."

HEAVY RAINS BOOST SCIOTO

Stage is Eight Feet; Corn Crop Not in Danger

Recent rains have brought a steady rise in the Scioto river during the last four days to a stage of eight feet at the W. Main street bridge Tuesday.

Previous to the recent rise, the stream stage was two feet at the bridge, lowest the stream had been so far this Summer. Normal stage is four feet.

Dr. H. R. Clark, weather recorder, said no flood dangers were expected in the county. He believed the stream was near its peak. The present stage causes no damage to lowland crops.

Rainfall in Circleville in the 24 hours preceding 8 a. m. Tuesday was only .02 of an inch. Heavier rains were reported South of the city.

An unusual weather trick was played on Circleville residents Monday evening. Rain fell in some parts of the city while others remained dry. One of the brightest rainbows of the Summer and some unusual cloud effects were presented Monday evening.

BLIND DATE FOR PLANTING HURTS STATE FARMERS

Blind dates are going to get a lot of farmers in trouble in 1939 unless all signs fall, according to T. H. Parks, extension entomologist, Ohio State University, who claims that wheat growers in this state have encouraged an increase of Hessian flies by failing to observe approved planting dates.

Entomologists recently completed surveys of wheat fields in 34 Ohio counties and found the infestation of Hessian fly worse in 26 counties than it was in 1937. Seven counties had fewer Hessian flies and there was no change in number present in one county. Rates of increase varied from slight to 1,000 percent. Mr. Parks believes the number of this insect now present in many counties may result in severe damage to wheat fields in 1939 unless farmers plant their wheat at the correct time this Fall.

Planting wheat at the recommended time is the only known practical way of controlling this insect. The larvae of the Hessian fly live inside wheat stems, and weaken the plant so that it breaks over before the wheat ripens. Wheat borne on the broken stems may be shrunken or it may be impossible to gather the heads by ordinary harvesting methods.

Safe dates for planting wheat in Ohio vary according to the location of the county in the state and to the altitude of the area. Each county agricultural agent knows the date recommended for wheat planting in his county. Planting is delayed so that the fly does not have a good opportunity to deposit eggs on the wheat, but the wheat still will have time to make sufficient growth before cold weather.

October 1 is fly free date in Pickaway county.

National Dairy Show To Be Held At Fairgrounds

COLUMBUS, Aug. 2—The National Dairy Show returns to Columbus Oct. 8 to 15, for its twenty-ninth annual exhibition of prize U. S. cattle.

Selection of Ohio for the second successive year resulted from the success of last year's exhibition in the Buckeye state which attracted a record entry list and an all-time high attendance, according to State Director of Agriculture Earl H. Hanefeld. Hanefeld heads a committee of 31 Ohioans constituting the executive committee for the show.

Ohio's location in the center of a high-ranking dairy area, the facilities of its state fairgrounds, and the ready cooperation of all the state's agricultural interests insure the success of the exhibition, Hanefeld says.

Cash awards totaling $15,200 and many trophies will be at stake in this "court of final award" in the dairy cattle world for 1938. Competing will be not only the winners of previous years, but also a new list of prize cattle fresh from victories in state fairs soon to be held throughout the nation.

Catalogs now being distributed show that Holsteins will compete for $3700, Jerseys and Guernseys for $3500 each, Ayrshires for $2500, and Brown Swiss for $2000.

Many Innovations

Innovations appear each year, as the breed associations endeavor to show the superiority of their animals in various respects. A new venture this year in breed promotion is the Ayrshire Milking Derby, when cows of that breed will be on test for 72 hours.

Five breed judges have been announced. Dean H. H. Kildee, of Iowa, will handle the Guernseys, Professor J. B. Fitch, Minnesota, the Brown Swiss; Ayrshires will be judged by a noted Canadian breeder, R. O. Biggs; Paul B. Misner, manager of "Dunloggin" farm, Maryland, will judge Holsteins; Jerseys will be judged by J. W. Ridgway, Texas, with Ira G. Payne, New York, as his aide. Teams from many states will compete for $2000 in prizes at the National Horse Pulling Contest.

SAMPLES OF OIL FOUND IN SEA BEING CHECKED

MANILA, P. I., Aug. 2—(UP)

—Pan American airlines today received samples of oil found near the last known position of the Hawaii Clipper which disappeared last Friday with 15 persons aboard while flying from Guam to Manila.

The oil samples, found by the U. S. army transport Meigs, one of 14 vessels engaged in the search for the giant flying boat, contained lubricating oil and gasoline. Pan-American hopes to determine whether the oil and gas were the types used by the plane.

As the fourth day of futile searching drew to a close, the vessels and seven planes seeking a clue to the fate of the clipper

Today's Fashion

IN TOWN or in the country there's always plenty of use for a smart little linen suit. Here is an especially becoming model, a neat suit done in rough linen in bright yellow. The skirt, with its center seam, dips up in a rounded V in front, following the lines of the jacket. Two flaps mark the slit pockets that are one with the seaming of the jacket. The peplum of the jacket dips down in back just a trifle. The skirt has more fullness in back. It is very smart with deep black linen accessories.

LOOP MANAGERS ALLOW PROTEST

Decision on Batter Out of Turn Reversed; Game to Be Played Again

Managers of softball teams allowed a protest brought by the Purina Feeds, Monday evening, of a game lost to the Cain food market of South Bloomfield. The contest will be played over. Six of the seven managers participated in a meeting in The Daily Herald office, all voting to permit the protest.

The Feeds lost the game 9 to 7. The protest followed a ruling on a batter who went to the plate out of turn. An out he made was charged erroneously thus giving the Purinas only two outs in that particular inning.

The rule book says: "Only the proper batsman shall be declared out... A player is not out for batting out of turn. The player who fails to bat in his proper place is the one to be called out."

The Feeds play the Bronzeville Jollies Tuesday evening with Blue Ribbon Dairy and Gilt's Grocery meeting Wednesday, Jollies and Eshelman Feeds, Thursday, and Cain's food market and Blue Ribbon Dairy on Friday. The Monday game between Cincinnati Oils and Fenton Cleaners will be played at the end of the schedule.

Big Bill Keeps Trying; Bill Cissell Joins Team

CHICAGO, Aug. 2—(UP)—One thing about the New York Giants is that they never give up. They keep trying until it hurts—not only on the field but in the front offices.

When Bill Terry (and Terry is the Giants' front office) needs a player he goes out and gets him. Cash is no object in getting the best man available. While some of the other clubs are assuming "a wait until next year" attitude, the theory that they can win the pennant this year.

That's why they reached out and bought Chalmers (Bill) Cissell, the spidery little infielder who might have enough baseball left in his system for the next two months to tighten up the Giants' infield for a serious attempt to overhaul the high-flying Pittsburgh Pirates.

Kampouris Bought, Too
Cissell, who played some great baseball in his day with the White Sox and Indians in the American league, is the second second-baseman Terry has bought since the season opened. He gave up Wally Berger to get Alex Kampouris, who proved a dismal failure.

Another example of the Terry policy was the purchase of Outfielder Bob Seeds from Newark for $35,000. Terry needed an outfielder after Joe Moore was injured so he bought Seeds, even though the price tag on him was more than doubled when the Giants became interested in him. The Cincinnati Reds turned down Seeds for $12,500 and another player.

A year ago the Giants were in second place six games behind the Cubs but they came on to win the pennant. Today they're only five games behind the Pirates, and who can count 'em out of the race?

The Giants open a vital series—vital for both clubs—with the Cubs at the Polo Grounds today. Clay Bryant, the most improved pitcher in the National league, was scheduled to oppose King Carl Hubbell, Terry's meat ticket. The Giants have a 2 1/2 game lead on the Cubs.

Cleveland faltered yesterday in an attempt to shave half a game off the New York Yankees' American league lead by losing a 10-inning battle to Washington, 11-8. The Indians now trail the Yanks by 2 1/2 games. The Senators rallied in the eighth and ninth to tie the score and then staged a 3-run rally in the tenth to triumph. Bob Feller was driven from the box but Rookie Johnny Humphries was charged with the defeat. Ossie Bluege's double drove in two runs during the winning rally.

Detroit Halted
The Philadelphia Athletics snapped Detroit's 8-game winning streak with a 4-0 victory. Buck Ross, who received credit for the victory, held the Tigers to seven hits in six innings, but was taken out when two men singled in the seventh. Edgar Smith then quelled the Tigers in the last three frames. Ross won his own game by driving in three runs.

No other games were played.

INDIAN ROOKIE FAILS TO HALT SENATOR CLUB

CLEVELAND, Aug. 2—(UP)—A month ago Manager Oscar Vitt refused to name rookie Johnny Humphries as his fourth regular starting pitcher to team with Johnny Allen, Mel Harder and Bob Feller, because "He's too valuable as a relief pitcher and will save us more games than he could possibly win taking his ordinary turn on the mound."

When Vitt made the statement Humphries was being rushed into action every time a hurler showed signs of faltering and was stopping the opposition dead.

The Tribe manager was counting on Humphries performing the same heroic work as the club thundered into the pennant stretch, but today he was on the verge of changing his mind for the good-looking collegian who won 20 games a year ago for New Orleans has lost his mound magic and his control.

Humphries was a distinct liability on the Indians' recent invasion of the East and he has proved the same since the club returned home. He walked three men in 1/3 of an inning when sent to aid of Mel Harder Saturday and yesterday when he relieved Bob Feller his lack of control resulted in Cleveland absorbing a 11 to 9 defeat at the hands of the Washington Senators and falling 2 1/2 games back of the pace-setting New York Yankees.

Humphries replaced Feller in the sixth inning yesterday with the bases full, one man out and Cleveland in the van 6 to 5. An infield out gave the Senators the run that knotted the count.

RURAL ELECTRIFICATION FOR WESTERN PART OF COUNTY RECEIVES BOOST

R. E. A. PLEDGES FINANCIAL AID FOR FARMERS

Need For Rights-of-Way and Three Customers for Each Mile Stressed

MEETINGS ARE CONDUCTED

Staking Progressing on Job Already Approved; Area Officials Gather

Rural electrification project for the western part of Pickaway county has the approval of R.E.A. providing three customers per mile are secured together with all necessary rights-of-way.

The project, now in the process of being prepared for application for an allotment, was given an ok Monday afternoon at a rural electrification meeting in the Fort Hayes hotel, Columbus. Approval of the project plans was made by R. E. Folkenwald, Washington, head of the division of projects of the R.E.A.

Officials of the South Central Rural Electric Cooperative, including Pickaway, Fairfield and Perry counties, attended the meeting.

All Townships Listed

The project for the western part of Pickaway county includes Wayne, Jackson, Deer Creek, Muhlenberg, Perry, Monroe, Scioto and Darby townships. It is called project "D". Officials estimate the project will include about 150 miles of lines. As soon as preliminary details for the project are completed, maps and plans will be prepared to submit the project to Washington. The distribution point for the western section will be at Pherson.

Community meetings are being conducted this week to obtain rights-of-way and memberships. Meetings were held Monday evening in the Atlanta school and the office of W. D. Heiskell, Williamsport. Others scheduled are at Wayne and Jackson township schools on Wednesday, Monroe and Muhlenberg township schools on Thursday, and Scioto and Darby schools on next Monday. The meetings are being held at 8 p. m.

Officials of the cooperative urge residents of the western section of the county to give their fullest cooperation to requirements of R. E. A. for the project may be met as quickly as possible.

Staking Progresses

Staking is progressing rapidly for line construction on the project including the eastern section of the county. Poles for the lines are now in shipment. Construction will be done by the Anders Asphalt Paving Co., Hamilton. Approximately 80 miles of lines in the eastern section will be constructed under an allocation of $233,000 made recently to the cooperative. This allocation provided lines in all three counties of the cooperative.

VILLAGE TRAFFIC OFFICER TREATED FOR DOG BITES

Nick Robert, New Holland traffic officer, was placed under treatment for the prevention of rabies Tuesday following a positive rabies report from the state department of health on a dog he shot Sunday in West Holland.

Roberts suffered an injured finger when he shot a stray dog. The dog had bitten other dogs in the community. Harry Riffle, county dog warden, was making a careful check of the village Tuesday, capturing all dogs at large that had not been given treatment for the prevention of rabies.

Pickaway county's health department did not learn of the rabid dog until Monday afternoon. The head of the dog was sent to Columbus for examination by the Fayette county health department. The dog was killed near the Pickaway-Fayette county line. Pickaway county health officials were notified as soon as the positive report was received.

RUSSIANS ORDER TANKS AGAINST TOKYO'S FORCES

Changkufeng Sector Along Siberian Border Scene Of New Struggle

Changkufeng is the area in which Russians recently occupied a hill claimed by Japan. Japanese troops recaptured the hill. Today, in a communique issued before the time of the alleged new Russian attack, the Russians asserted that they had stormed and retaken the hill. This the Japanese deny.

Is It Another War?

Reports of today's fighting arrived at a time when Japanese leaders were considering deliberately whether the country faced a new test of strength, with hundreds of thousands of their men fighting on hills and in valleys and in the broad plains of sprawling China. It was emphasized in official quarters that Japan's diplomatic officials were seeking a peaceable settlement.

For the moment, initiative was left to the Manchukuoan government as regards diplomatic action and Manchukuo in a strong protest to the acting Russian consul general at Harbin demanded a cessation of "Russian attacks." Accompanying the protest was an expression of readiness to negotiate a friendly settlement of frontier disputes when "Soviet aggressions" ceased.

Dispatches from Japanese army headquarters in Korea, discussing alleged attacks by Russian tanks and airplanes, said that the Japanese were patiently withholding reprisals.

"Enemy tanks are proving ineffective in the marshy country," said one dispatch. "Japanese army and navy planes are ready against any emergency. Once they take the air no enemy will be in a position to withstand them."

Evening newspapers continued to subordinate the frontier news. Maj. Gen. Takahide Togo, arriving at Shimonoseki from Korea, where until recently he was in command of the frontier, said:

"Russian activities at Changkufeng are merely a demonstration and probably will not lead to anything serious. Our frontier guards are prepared for all possible situations."

Up To Russians

Foreign office officials said that entire responsibility rested on Russia and it was up to her to decide whether it should be war or peace.

U. S. ATTACHES LEAVE HANKOW

Nanking to the Japanese last December.

Major K. C. Wu, Princeton-educated Chinese army official, bade farewell to Johnson and his associates at the dock.

Other foreign diplomats were expected to leave Chungking soon.

More than 200,000 workers were pressed into service building fortifications outside the city and in the streets.

Today, the Japanese opened a new offensive North of the Yangtze river in an attempt to break the Chinese resistance which had halted for the moment, their campaign against Hankow.

The Japanese admitted that their drive up the Yangtze valley has been halted, but claimed that strong reinforcing columns from Anhwei province striking from the North, had reached the Chinese river defense west of Kiukiang.

posed by three men including former Gov. Clyde M. Reed. In Kansas' first district, Republican Rep. William P. Lambertson has been blacklisted by Labor's Non-Partisan league, political arm of the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Just across the Potomac river from Washington, the eighth Virginia congressional district is a fire with a Democratic contest for nomination to the house. Rep. Howard W. Smith, the incumbent, charges that New Deal brain trusters are trying to remove him from congress for disloyalty to the Roosevelt administration. As a member of the house rules committee, Smith helped stymie the wages-hour bill. He charges that Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes, distributor of PWA funds, attempted to "muscle in" on the primary in behalf of William E. Dodd, Jr., 100 percent New Deal candidate.

Clark Favored

Sen. Bennett C. Clark, D., Mo., who challenged the Roosevelt administration often in his first term, is up for renomination today in what appears to be a run-away contest. Only a political miracle could unseat him. Clark was so securely situated in Missouri that whatever plans may have been considered to punish him for opposing judiciary reorganization and other Roosevelt measures must have been abandoned long ago. The New Deal may dislike him, politically, but his renomination has been forecast here by politicians.

The Missouri battle is between Gov. Lloyd C. Stark and Pendergast for top position in the state organization. The fight involves village formed bucket brigades to supply water for the fire trucks from pumps. The village has no fire cisterns. Mr. Hill said that at the time he arrived the blaze had gained such headway in the hotel it was impossible to save it. Efforts were directed toward saving other properties.

Residents were thankful there was no breeze at the time of the fire or the entire village would have been in danger.

The two story hotel was erected in 1824 and was used as a tavern in the days of the stage coaches. It contained 17 rooms. Rafter in the building were of oak and walnut. The hotel had been owned by the Miller family since 1864. It was first called the National hotel, later the American hotel, and in more recent years was commonly known as the Darbyville hotel.

The fire was the second serious one in the village this year. Last Feb. 23 a storeroom owned by John Downs was destroyed. Nearby homes were damaged.
